

Tirth Raj Parsana – mistake/failure/influencer or lucifer?

- Megh Bhatt

DISCLAIMER-

This is a case study documenting major incidents. Of Tirth raj parsana's life , his experiences , his point of view for towards life , this case study in no way tries to disrespect or humiliate his thoughts , beliefs or content. This document also does not try to insult anyone related to him, his previous city residents etc. all the content made by the author is based on all the podcasts available on the internet , his own book – Lucifer was innocent, his interviews and his open content.

Before we try and understand and make unnecessary opinions on the man most of the Indian internet today knows as Lucifer was innocent, we should understand the social backgrounds he comes from , Tirth raj parsana comes from Gujarat -03 , Rajkot, a fairly new playground when the YouTube scene broke out into the world, its impact yet to be felt on the outskirts of Gujarat. In 2010 Tirth's father Rajendra parsana bought him and his sister a computer, as Tirth was a born introvert [his words not mine], he started to play games on his computer for the most part of his day, to name a few – GTA VICE CITY AND COUNTER STRIKE. The wi-fi connection hadn't yet made its entry into the parsana household, but when it arrived the avenues and blockages of Tirth opened up , he wanted to explore the culture world wide , he wanted to learn the western world , remember this , the time period this is happening is a time where You tube has just started gaining traction, where the content coming up on the website was very unfiltered, and raw.

Meanwhile going into Tirth's personal life is a bit tough considering the level of enigmatic lifestyle he lives, and the anonymity he enjoys along with his fame, one of the major reasons I wanted to learn more about him was to understand why exactly LUCIFER innocent was.

His life does have its equal share of downs , rather for the major part of his life as now what I have come to believe has been a downer. His school life was such that since 1st grade a new law had been passed in his school to separate the two genders into different buildings, and the school had the ICSE board in its operations, an overall depressing environment only. Throughout his time in Rajkot until he shifted to Mumbai for further studies he had to face humiliation just for the sole reason that he was into some type of content creation, and considering the size and the low populations of Rajkot , the entire city became his opp. Going back to his school life , he had one friend whom he last saw in 1st grade , she had been shifted to a girls campus of the same school, meanwhile Tirth had started basic content creation , to track his years on the internet has been tough but I have managed to extract his internet foot prints through his podcasts , he had started making basic content showcasing his life and doing random shit [for the lack of a better word] on the internet , and no owns blaming him , in the early 2000s everything on the internet was random as hell. Due to Rajkot being a fairly backward area especially considering the time we are talking about; I feel it takes guts from a kid to start a YouTube channel. So what had happened was he had started making content showcasing his life in the building, his studies some of which you can still find on his current and 4th channel TIRTH RAJ PARSANA. Cut to 10th boards, the girl from 1st grade enters his life back , this time as a friend and the only one in his life as others had already left him and some were left by Tirth as they had started making fun of him and it took him a while to realize the difference between fun and being made fun of, and his friends had circulated his videos making fun of him in the entire city, and now the entire city knew him and not in a good way though , makes us realize the deep cut it gave to a teenager who was just trying to have fun , to never return to city after he had moved out till this date. So the girl , she re appears as a guidance and emotional support in our lucifer's life and after a while things had started looking up for him cuz what was initially friendship , turned to love and they dated happily for 6 months , and for the first time in those 6 months the only thing that didn't linger in his mind was content making though he was doing it along , his dream to hit a hundred – odd subscribers had been buried deep down , with him just asking for one thing now in his prayers, the woman. Let's cut back to a very early memory Tirth had of when he was out with his family , his father showed his palm to a palm reader , and to his and everybody present there's surprise , his palm's every line consists of a cross , in palm reading this unique combination of crosses means, VIGHNA or problems and obstacles which were to be faced by him in every part of his life. This incident is pivotal to what happens at the end of these 6 months of the ideal life of our case study, a day before these 6 months were going to end he was invited to a place by his girl and his mom and other friends of theirs to hangout , as usual Tirth started recording the whole thing , the vlog ends and he is chilling around with friends and family. The friend of his sister and his brother from the U.S.A contact him and told him the cold hard truth as it is that some guy who was elder to them had called him. Him and his siter and her friend who was a close friend of Tirth, went to meet the guy.

That guy showed a video of that girl and him hanging out together, and then as that guy reveals more about the relationship he and that girl had, things took a dark turn and by dark I mean dark which included the girl cheating on him to the extent of allegedly getting physical with said person by Tirth on one of his podcasts. Soon the entire city found out this disaster, everyone got to know that Tirth and his girl were dating, as opposed to what they had portrayed themselves as. One of the building moments of the Lucifer persona was this. His father had been summoned to his school and was told that Tirth would be removed from school with a note making getting a new admission someplace else next to impossible.

After a lot of pleading he was allowed to stay in school and this was when covid had just hit so the schools had shifted online , giving the anonymity he needed much heavily, after this major heart break he got more than motivated to make good quality content , he used to work till 3 am in the night , which I believe resulted in him making the song much time later 3AM in hell. This obsession now with trying to make it to someplace took a toll on him in such a way that his mental health for the first time in his life had affected his physical health, he had stopped eating food , him being the biggest foodie in his family , the one who used to eat nonstop had stopped eating food , even during this period in his life he often thought about those 6 months, from this he derived a theory that give a man love and he will become calm and docile and give a man a heart break and he will conquer his dreams. People were dying , his building friend's father had just passed away and the males int eh 2nd wave of covid were going faster than the females , meanwhile Tirth had started puking uncountably anything he tried to have his body wouldn't accept , he thought this was because of the recent work load he thrust unto himself and his heart's condition was also not that great. He mentions in one of his podcasts that he didn't cry for 7 months after that even though he wanted , he couldn't sleep and used to sweat when he lied down to get some shut eye and woke up in a frightened state, one night a big fight broke between his parents and it was on a scale that made Tirth cry for the 1st time in 7 months , he cried away the pain of his parents fighting and the pain of the girl who had cheated on him. He felt lighter. After this incident one morning he tried to drink some water he instantly puked it away , after which he told his father that he needs help . His father told him to get a blood test and a covid test, though initially reluctant Lucifer goes and takes one , seeing a recent news that the chimney of a place where people who were dead were given the rites of passage , had melted away he thought not to risk it . he tested POSITIVE for 3 things –

COVID- 19

JAUNDICE

LIVER SWELLING

Hardest period of his life for 4 months he was away from everyone , his food was kept outside of his room and he had zero human interaction, it was him and his laptop , on top of that his blood was collected every third day by a doctor and taken by his father to a doctor amidst a 100 positive patients everyday with Rajendra Parsana being the 101. During this time his siter had told him to explore Tik-Tok, again initially reluctant he did explore it after he recovered, one incident which was particularly interesting to me was when he was 6th grade , where he had his arm broken or was unable to move due to some reason and he was watching a documentary on internet's favorite archetype - LUCIFER.As the story probe goes ahead dwelling deep into the story of Satan and the king of hell etc., Tirth hears the door of the temple of his house made purely out of wood creaked very loudly , to the point that it was almost as if someone was shaking it , sounds kinda fake but according to him it happened and he saw it on first person basis account. He falls from the chair he was sitting in and his mother picks him up scolding him for being naughty again. An incident which has stayed with him throughout and he thought of heavily during his time in isolation. Tirth recovers, he joins TIK-TOK to make people happy again with that being the sole purpose of his life because of the sadness around him, he makes it his own mission to give people happiness. But again, the palm reading were not wrong , this time

TIK- TOK was desperate and was freezing accounts which were violent because it came into the lime light for provoking citizens of India and the government decides to ban it out , this was just before he hit a 100k followers on 90k his account freezes for using a green nerf gun in one of his videos . The official reason being trying to incite violence. The world of content was shifting, everyone from TIK-TOK came to Instagram reels, so did Tirth he now had the knowledge of algorithms and how they worked , during this time reels had some content which was featured by Instagram itself , creators like Charlie d'Amelio , Bella porch etc. Tirth now understood to make language less content which could be seen worldwide the same thing he put up on his YouTube. Once again things were going good for him but this time again someone had put copyright strikes on his you tube channel, his account like this on both the platforms has been deleted, omitted , erased and re-instated around 4-5 times , further giving him the fuel to make good content and forming his internet persona – LUCIFER. Before going into college which now he was ready to he wanted to make it big, he ramped up quickly to 100k to 200k followers on all accounts and got into SVKM. Where acc. To him he spent the time of his life partly I believe because he got away from his past and from Gujrat-03, Rajkot. The Rajkot chapter had now ended for good, his college life made him peaceful to some extent and he came into class with the firm belief that he was the highest in the room, one incident he remembers was that his dean had called him to college to warn him about something , it stayed with him he deduced it to be an attempt by his enemies to bring him down , but I believe that regarding the content he was making in college, he might have been summoned , by now he had been using the tag – LUCIFER WAS INNOCENT to its fullest extent. He never smoked , used substances or tried drinking alcohol , even if he may have tried alcohol he never drank more than once in his life , he never used vapes and cigarettes etc, though its hard to believe for some people, he tried to become more famous instead of getting high , his obsession with his work wouldn't let him lose his consciousness out in the open like this. He enjoyed life in college by going to manali one trip of his on which he has made and put out a lot of content. He always believed in his enemies being in the matrix as his arm whenever he tried to go to gym broke twice, it was the same arm, on record he has never stated which arm it is but unconsciously while giving podcasts he does lift up his left arm. His obsession with lucifer never went and tried to fully assume what the name stood for. He now researches more about satanism, and the usual stuff, after researching and realizing the truth of this world which was the red pill

according to him , he tried to get people hooked onto his ideas and theories via his content , he tried to gain traction and get more people like me engaged into his work. The idea in its full duality did work but he got more hate than he ever did in Rajkot, after getting the ultimate knowledge [again his words not mine] he started diverting more towards conspiracy, Satan , the red pill , the matrix content more further ruining his image to those that didn't understand what he was trying to convey, he while he was in the last leg of his college wrote a book named after his most famous tagline – LUCIFER WAS INNOCENT . After having this book read twice we do get an insight into his life, the book mentions his meeting with lucifer and getting to know more about humanity, religion, this world , lucifer etc. against the backdrop of Mumbai and him being away from his friends and family and ultimately getting lost. As fake as it may sound, he quotes and uses texts and excerpts from various texts like the bible, the Vedas, the Quran and the books which were banned by the church. the main idea of the book is that we are not believing in ourselves and that lucifer and Jesus have the same archetype and came onto this earth for this same reason to bring light as both were known as light bringers in the ancient texts. Heavily suggest reading it from a non-biased viewpoint. He had started getting more and more into music, he got himself a music distributor on Spotify and apple music and took up the name officially – LUCIFER WAS INNOCENT. Repetitive but yes his musical identity online is of the same name, there he tries and make music relating to his heartbreak , the embers of which have not been extinguished entirely I believe as it took away a part of his soul, he makes music on his theories , he has never understood the concept of albums hence we never got an album from his side. His most famous songs were 3am in hell , Aham Bramhasmi and his most played song MONEY + FAME – PUSSY which was again targeted by social media when it first came out due to its demeaning nature though the song is there available even now, Tirth allegedly made it after a break up or a fight in his friends, the general perception around the music video and the content he put out around the video was intriguing as well as criticized by his peers. His life certainly has its ups and downs and how one reacts to it under such pressure and scrutiny is something which does teach people what to do and what not to do. Now the internet and people often comment on his profile, WE MADE THE WRONG PERSON FAMOUS which is partially true. His podcasts available right now provide good insight into the psyche of internet's most funny memer to one of the most disliked personalities , due to his divergence from his content to being more fake according to the general masses but I feel one should study his character and theory before actually making attempts to throw him off the internet and trying to demean him , along with that I would also like to say that whatever Tirth has done in the past or now is not supported by me and I do believe that his fan following was truly lost to his lucifer persona , if he hadn't done what he has with his account a year or two back it would have exploded even more. His podcast with Khooni Monday stories was the most famous one which actually got me to work , it is the same podcast where he wear a pearl necklace , his hair all straight and a green double breasted jacket, due t the video being criticized too much it was , taken off the internet , and even a leaked video of it is not found on google or on malware websites, it has become something which just sits in the minds of everyone with a phone. His life is one which an individual does not often come across, a truly talented individual with a knack of comedic timing to Lucifer. To get more into his comedy one of the things he used to do in class was to say something or pass a comment which his friends would say even more louder to which the entire class would laugh, in his own words he was a class clown but he himself didn't know it. His life had always been dual in nature, tough but chosen. He always stood up after getting hit down to the ground and he also says that god and destiny can give you hardships but how you react to it is not even in god's hands which strikes a chord in everyone's heart who is going through something. He has been a person under constant criticism and scrutiny whose life after some point was shrouded in mystery. Won't lie his content back then was good and even now his reels do pop up on my feed sometimes but now it all just cringes everyone out , rather than just letting it pass or even enjoying it. His constant references to society, to illuminati, to the king of hell etc make him certainly more intriguing but after a while it has just made everyone cringe and bored. A very promising creator , he could have been in the current ranks of the best comedy creators we know today , in fact at one point he was , he has made reels and content with the likes of effigy music and Rahul dua , Collab it and many more but he chose a different path , he calls this path the one of knowledge and truth rather than entertainment, he calls this the red pill referencing to the 2 pills in the matrix movie , with the red giving you the truth about how life is an illusion and the blue pill which lets you live the way you are living currently. Currently he has used up a large part of his money on a feature film with him being the main character type namely – The Red Pill. He calls it something which will change your life, and does not know when to release it because he is certain that If he releases It now he will be eliminated by the matrix and the people who do not want us to know the truth. To let you know more about him he believes that society needs more men with self-respect and them being taught how to stay strong, his aim though no this only one is to eliminate pseudo feminism from the internet often sounding like the internet's favorite Baldy. Now one can does not know how true he is in his content with the theories regarding universe being simulated , god being a probability , with either the heaven or hell and the afterlife being there or death being incidental to human beings being gods themselves. He believes that humans just use 4 percent of their brain and the only person to push the limits was Albert Einstein albeit when I researched about it modern science proves that to push the limits of the human brain we need more electron production which produces more electric currents throughout the human body which is practically impossible. Tirth Raj Parsana has been made by being broken every time his account got banned, frozen, suspended, every time his heart got broken, every time he got sick, it made him. To understand more of his academic prowess he was sent to Canada for further studies once but he came back after the realization that Indians were an asset and he could use it here and while he was studying there he asked his teacher by when could he earn his 1st million dollars , when he didn't get a proper answer he left the classes. When asked for his preference between ass and boobs he says that he is a typical uncle in that matter and would prefer boobs over ass any day , that kind of makes sense also that why would anyone prefer something everyone has over something which only one gender has [his words not mine]. He is a sneakerhead with his two most famous pairs being converse platform highs and olive Jordan Travis Scott, when one closely listens to his interviews one can infer that he listens to a lot of Travis Scott. His movie THE RED PILL has completed being shot and into postproduction procedure. His story is truly saddening especially the five years into content creation before his channel got internet traction were demotivating, once when his YouTube channel was going to get deleted by the authorities on community copyright strikes but he along with some legal help found loopholes and got his account back. A truly interesting story of his , one should listen to one of his podcasts to understand the brevity of the situations he has been in. At the end of it all one could say that lucifer was innocent but the downfall of his account was his doing himself. What one can learn from his story is timing , how to respond to stressful situations and what one can avoid is getting into situations where one messes with forces or energies one cannot control.

So to end this case study I would ask these questions-

Is he right in his quest for truth , but truth is subjective isn't it , was lucifer innocent , then why has he been painted as the king of hell , Tirth says that Jesus and lucifer had the same purpose to awaken the humanity and his book does make some sense and it provides a good amount of truth , but then why did the church ban this knowledge , if it is all fake , then why does it even matter .

Nobody knows but that's that.

Tirth was born on 24th January, 2003 in the City of Rajkot, Gujarat

He weighed 3.5kgs at the time of birth.